

National Preparedness Month

Week 2 September 5-11: Build a Kit

After an emergency, you may need to survive on your own for several days. Being prepared means having your own food, water, and other supplies to last for several days. An emergency kit is a collection of basic items your household may need in the event of an emergency.

Emergency kits should include basic supplies and be tailored to each person's need. You will need additional supplies if your household has children, seniors, individuals with access and functional needs, or pets. Kits should be kept in a water-resistant container or a sturdy, transportable bag, and stored in locations where they will be both useful and accessible when needed.

You might ask yourself, how much water do I need for my family? A good rule of thumb is one gallon of water per person, per day. For a family of four for three days, that would be twelve gallons. Use commercially bottled water. Keep in mind that bottled water has an expiration date!

Other items to include in your emergency kit are:

- Food, at least a three-day supply of non-perishable food
- Battery powered or hand crank radio
- Flashlight
- First aid kit
- Manual can opener
- Medication and health information

For a complete list of what items to include in your emergency kit, visit the preparedness section of the Fairfax County Community Emergency Response Guide.
