

Keeping your children safe from internet pornography

Please join us for a special presentation on the growing issue of internet pornography and how it is affecting our children. Guest Speaker Kevin Bohli will explain how the pornography that existed when you were growing up is almost quaint in comparison to the ugliness of pornography today. He will give instructions on methods to protect your children online, and provide recommendations on how to speak with your children about the gift of human sexuality.

Every
smart phone,
iPod, tablet, and
video game system
has the capability
to view internet
pornography!!!

Elementary
school children
are now exposed
to internet
pornography!!!

Remember
the curiosity
you had as a young person?

Now imagine
if you would have had access to the internet...

Guest speaker Kevin Bohli is the Director of the Office of Youth Ministry for the Catholic Diocese of Arlington. He has spoken to thousands of parents and teenagers about human sexuality and the danger of pornography over the past 12 years. He is married with six children.
